

Candyland

By AC Zito

The rifts in the bubblegum forest

Come the treetops where lilac dreams abide

See me there in a stupor

My fantasies for the love of this jungle stays abound

Bring me lollipops

And give me change in toothaches

For the teeth chatter and lunge into sensitivity

When a sugar rush is being carried along in the waves ahead

Chase the liquorish lions

A fairytale stands awake

While nightmares sooth out from the disasters

Candy Crush is my game

And Candyland is my soul

And chocolate rivers aren't just for Charlie and his chocolate factory

Prepare thyself for jolly rancher rocks up ahead in the soda bubbly fog

As we swing by them in our gondola made of cake

Now here we land in this meadow

This sweet-dreamed of meadow

We call

Our Candyland
